PERFORMANCE TRAINING

one step at a time

Peak Performance Training™ courses deliver the methods, processes and skills necessary to create performance improvements and sustainable change. Each course is based on the SAMI Program, SAMI's revolutionary combination of an exclusive Model, Process and Tool proven effective in developing a Performance Culture™.

Course topics center on the behaviors and practices that make sustainable change possible, as well as the aspects of equipment and production reliability that are required in a Performance Culture. All offerings can be customized to meet the needs of your organization in order to create a focused training program that will start you on the path to elevating your performance.

Upon course completion participants will be certified as Peak Performers recognizing their successful acquisition of the methods, processes and skills required to reach their peak potential within that discipline.
